

Intergalactic Bulletin #12: Synchronotron and Sacred Texts

Final Bulletin for 2012 ...

1.25.5.23 - Kin 193, Red Spectral Skywalker

The Noosphere - the holographic community/psyche - will be the result of new concentrated forms of meditation, visualization and telepathic evocation. Through the Heptagon of Mind of Earth, for instance, we must project a "cubing of the earth" emanating from an etheric cube placed around the octahedron core. –Valum Votan.

The Synchronotron is the way of the future and is a program for conscious evolution that slowly (or quickly) enters our mind into a different dimensional frequency. Of course the key to the Synchronotron is the 13 Moon/28-day calendar (synchronometer).

The 441 (21 x 21) grid represents a fractal of the multidimensional universe. There are many facets yet to be explored which will be the chief practice of the synchronic order for 2013 and beyond. There are so many levels of significance and infinite discoveries and explorations to be made. Each day that we work with these codes we open ourselves to more and more information regarding the cosmology of the circuits, the cosmology of the time dimensions and so on. We have to keep summarizing this system, exploring this system and working with it in different ways. It is a galactic intelligence program.

The ultimate key to the Synchronotron is working to imprint the circuit chip of the holomind perceiver in our corpus callosum. Every effort we make to do so helps activate our dormant brain energy, which then sends the frequencies through our nervous system. (For those who have been working with this system, let's see how far we can get during the 7 mystic moons leading to Galactic Synchronization!)

The holomind perceiver does not exist apart from the system of the cube and the system of the cube does not exist apart from the synchronic order. The practices of the synchronic order were absolutely necessary in order to give us the understanding that there is a fourth-dimensional level of reality where the spiritual discipline is understanding the relationship of the everyday whole system of moving variables.

The moving variables are encompassed by the 28-day standard of the 13 Moon, 28-day calendar. This gives us a module to work in where we can establish moving variable disciplines of heptads and kin, cubes, codons, etc. all of these fit within that system. Then we see how the number 28 (4 x 7) is a measure of synchronicity and we use it to see how much synchronicity we can measure in that.

We also know from following the 28-day Telektonon circuit that this is a key that opens the stairway to heaven that contains the Uranian frequencies. The Uranian frequencies hold the overtone fifth force that keeps the earth frequency in place. This is our big sister planet stabilizer. We connect with the Uranian circuit through telepathic frequencies that we augment every time we make conscious where we are in time according to the 13 Moon, 28-day synchronometer. We then transfer these synchronic variables into the 441 cube system, which is ultimately plugged into the holomind perceiver, the Mothership of the synchronic order. (Look for the Holomind Perceiver operational index coming in 2013).

Here is offered an informal but insightful questions and answer session with Valum Votan and myself in the Electric Storm year (2008) to give another way to perceive the Synchronotron practice and how to work with it in relation to sacred texts or other systems. This is followed by three graphics created by Valum Votan.

RQ: Let's talk about the nature of the 441 codes and holomind perceiver in relation to the state of the average human - there seems to be a large chasm between the Cube consciousness and every day human consciousness ...how do you feel about this?

VV: It makes me feel like I am transcribing information and formulas and equations from a future world and placing them here ... I know because they are telepathic codes - and by us doing them we are activating the place in the noosphere where they exist so that it will be easy for others to access. ... Like we talked about earlier all languages were loaded into the psi bank and it is received wholesale by different beings in different geographical locations.

I was doing my synchronic codes and 441 codes this morning and I thought "I cannot imagine not doing this." Because they give such a structure and meaning to my perception of things and I also know that because if we attune our perception to the psi bank, the noosphere and the entire collective mind, then there is a feeling that if I stopped doing it, it would be like something in the future wouldn't happen ...

RQ: Tell me what you think are your three most important discoveries, i.e. the discovery of the law of time and the discovery of the psi bank?

VV: Yes both of those and the third would be the discovery of the telepathic codes or the grammar and language of telepathy, which has come through the Synchronotron.

RQ: How is this meaningful for civilization as it is now?

VV: The only way it is meaningful is to show that there exists a much vaster sense of order and intelligence than this present civilization. I think anyone with objectivity could look at this and understand what I am saying.

RQ: Where are you receiving all of this information, what channel are you tuned into - is it multiple channels?

VV: Yes, multiple channels dependent on different factors. These are channels from - for lack of better terms - different councils or federations of star councils that I have been able to identify, namely Sirius and also Arcturus and Tau Ceti. Also there is a Pleaidan channel. But Sirius and Arcturus are the mains ones. It is more like a telepathic transmission, though some call it “channeling.” Channeling is dependent on opening to other historical channels - for example you can tune into Islamic teachings through the channel of Muhammad or Buddhist or Tibetan teachings through the channel of Buddha or Padmasambhava. Every day I try to open as many of these sacred channels as possible, through different prayers or mantras - like doing the Salat prayer or reciting the bodhisattva vows every morning. If I didn’t’ do that my world would be blank. That opens the channels, and then the other channels can be opened.

RQ: OK, now let’s talk about what are the distinctive difference between the Sirian channel and the Arcturian channel?

VV: Lately I have been seeing how they merge by reading different telepathic number frequencies. Sirian, for me, is more mathematical and Arcturian has more to do with ceremonial magic. They converge because ceremonial magic has to do with the power of 7. Seven is the main key that links into the Sirian channels.

RQ: But how do you know where they are coming from?

VV: When I tune in there is a knowing that is transmitted and communicated to me - I just know this is a transmission from Sirius - it is a particular energy that I have become familiar with. Sometimes I get this information from a confederation of star councils with messages as to my role or mission. For instance now I have had a lot of understanding that the ripening of the noosphere has everything to do with the ripening of Bodhisattva views.

RQ: So let’s say the bodhisattva vows (say them) ... now let’s envision what is the greatest happiness for all beings right now.

VV: Yes, what would that be? Hmmm ... For all beings to live in a state of absolute trust. That to me would be the greatest happiness. Now in the world there is very little real trust - or people don’t trust themselves for very long and as a consequence they don’t trust others. And that makes everyone’s life miserable.

RQ: People would like to trust don’t you think ...

VV: Yes, but now, the way the world is, it is not like that.

RQ: Not yet ... but soon! Does this have to do with the final battle of the war of the heavens still finishing up down here ...

VV: Yep, we are just finishing it up down here and experiencing repercussions. Everything is ultimately a function of waveforms. The nature of a waveform is that it crests and it crashes. A wave crashes only because there is so much ego dependency. The normal wave just comes down and goes up.

RQ: Let's talk about your morning practice this morning - where did your mind stream take you? Tell a little about how you work with the 441 matrix combined with different scriptures.

VV: Well, this morning, I did salat prayer and read a few verses in the Quran from Sura 8. So then I used these few verses as my meditation. So I read Sura 8 verse 65 and 66 that have the 1320 coded into them. If you put the numbers together it is 1320. Then I did the mathematics on the verse $8 \times 65 = 520$, which is 260×2 . So this to me confirmed the victory of 1320. Then I put this through the 441 code and 520 is base matrix unit 79, which is the Noosphere Constant. So that was confirmation of 1320 and the Noosphere - it's all happening. So this is how the information comes through ... this is how it informs you and the information is always of a certain nature that confirms perceptions of the nature of the path.

RQ: Do you feel this information base - the daily practices - is it leading somewhere - where is it leading and how do you foresee it after 2012?

VV: Yes, we are all ultimately going to be on the 13:28 cycle - a harmonic frequency - those harmonics tune you into the higher Sirian harmonics. This is what is being programmed into the noosphere right now through the different daily mathematical decodings of the 441. A harmonic frequency is syntropic, meaning it is opening you out, not closing you in.

RQ: So whoever is practicing this is assisting this process of evolution, and each time we practice it makes a deposit into the noosphere.

VV: Yes. This information will then be dropped into those receptive. They might see a 7, a 52 and a 28 and people will understand what that is and cosmic perceptions come in. The numbers also reveal the workings of nature. There is a set number of numbers that create a particular harmonic structure or cosmology from which is derived all the knowledge that you need.

RQ: So let me get this straight - there is a set number of numbers within the 441 matrix, like a microcosmic fractal, that creates all the possibilities of knowledge that you need to have.

VV: Yes, this is a telepathic informative structure of reality and from it all knowledge can be derived (of the multidimensional universe) - but of course this is very different from how we perceive things now.

When exploded into a cube the 441 Matrix becomes the 21³ Cube – the 1.3.3.1 (=9261) unit Universal Cube. Within this cube there are 21 layers of 441 units each. Every one of these units is a kin equivalent corresponding to the 260 Kin of the Book of Kin. Starting with BMU 1 (1 Dragon) each of the 20 layers begins and ends with a Kin whose code number (solar seal) matches the level or layer of which that Kin is the beginning & ending frequency!
