Galactic Dream Workshop in Cioclovina, Transylvania

Piloting the Dreaming Process.

1.36.1.16 - 1.36.1.20 - Kin 189 - 193

August 10-14, 2023

FLT Field Report submitted by Kin 113 and Kin 145

This report is an update on a workshop, "Galactic Dream", held in the region of Hunedoara, Cioclovina, Romania, during the specific dates of Aug 10-14 (kin 189-193), which coincided with a 20-year biorhythm, as spoken about by Peter Moon, author of the Montauk Project and Transylvania Sunrise series.

A small group of people heard the call to join Peter at a unique Scout Camp in the Cioclovina cave area of Transylvania. We had quite the adventure getting there, flying into Bucharest and then taking a van several hours to a remote Scout Camp. The beautiful Nature and the views were the reward.

Eleven people came from Romania, Canada, Puerto Rico, Bulgaria, Sweden, the United States, and Spain to experience this once-in-a-lifetime offer to spend four full days immersed in the culture of Romania, sitting around a campfire, sharing our dreams of the future for ourselves and humanity.

The intention of the group was to cultivate a resonate field through which we could pull information from the collective known as the Noosphere. We followed several processes and watched how similar dreams presented themselves, and knowledge of the area began to emerge.

We began our first day by dividing ourselves into Astrological groups, as this is how Jose Arguelles had done it with his students for the Whole Earth Festival, while teaching at UC Davis. This inspired Peter Moon, so we gathered in this manner and began to get to know one another and make the energetic connections required to build a harmonious group connection. The next day, we gathered in "Earth Families," as laid out by Jose/Votan in his later work with the synchronic order, 13:20 codes.

From the first day, we could feel the group's energy begin to "gel." It was as if we had all met somewhere before, perhaps in our dreams. For the four full days we were together (6 if you count the travel days to get there and back), we all felt genuine love for one another and ease in conversing. It felt like we were having a family reunion, though we had only just met!

The first day, we made dream catchers in preparation for what was to come. We shared a lovely breakfast made from locally sourced eggs, milk, honey, bread, and cheese each morning. I shared with the group that when we had large kin gatherings in the past, everyone helped with meals and chores on their Earth Family Day. There are five Earth Families, so that means everyone works one day and gets four days off.

Since each individual was decoded with their galactic signature, they volunteered on their Earth Family day to help with meal prep and clean up. This made our time much more enjoyable when everyone pitched in to help.

After breakfast, we had our first breakout session of the day by the firepit. This is when we would share our dreams from the night before.

Piloting the dreaming process:

- We broke into earth families and set the nighttime intention.
- We then went to bed at a reasonable time.
- We wrote our dreams immediately upon waking into our dream journals.
- We read the daily kin affirmation each morning.
- We shared our dreams after breakfast.
- The group reflected upon the dreams, and we were able to find threads or themes

The dreams came slowly as we integrated but soon began to come in full force, with several of the participants having multiple dreams. As an experiment, we were looking for recurring themes. This dream group did not disappoint.

Many of the dreamers had similar dreams involving the landscapes around us. The region of Romania is ripe in history, and the dreams indicated that there was "buried treasure" here. This was validated by a local Romanian woman who shared some history of the region. Nature was speaking to us all through the dreams. We were picking up on the collective knowledge of this bioregion.

Possible outcomes of the experiment based on this group:

- We noted that some dreams were unlocking memories and activating healing situations.
- We developed a heightened vibrational field as we continued through the time together.
- Many of us reported later the feeling that our ESP had activated and some noted instant manifestations.

Conclusion:

This experience affected each of us in different ways. We have all expressed the desire to continue to work together towards the shared goal of dreaming of the planet whole and being lifted into a higher vibration.

We want to thank Peter Moon for hosting this powerful event. Also, we would like to give a special thanks to Gherman, the scout leader who so graciously watched over our group as we held this dreaming container for our time there. Last but not least, we would like to honor Stephanie South for activating so many of us in the dream!

We will stay in touch with the people we met and continue our dream work. We look forward to participating in the upcoming Noosphere Dream Node experiment.
